

Gail Davis

Gail Davis is a local Framer and multi-media (but mostly clay) artist. Having received a bachelor degree in fine arts from Auburn University in 1994 and starting a family in Alabama, she moved to the area nearly 15 years ago. She currently enjoys teaching beginners clay class at Mossman Hall.

"I love how expressive clay work is, the possible applications are almost endless. The metamorphosis of the clay body ennobles not only the medium, but also the artist." Thirty two years ago my love for the medium of clay was sparked in a community arts center where local artists used the facility to teach classes. I am so thrilled to have the opportunity to share my experience and passion for the arts with this community. I am truly grateful for the passion and commitment my students have so generously shared with me...thank you so much Melrose!
